#InnovatixEssensa19

WELCOME TO ATLANTA

On behalf of Premier Alternate Site Programs, welcome to the 2019 Innovatix + Essensa National Meeting & Expo. I'm thrilled to have you join us for three dynamic days of learning, networking, and collaboration.

The theme of this year's meeting is change. So it's fitting that we're in Atlanta, a city that has experienced explosive growth over the past half-century to become an economic and cultural powerhouse.

Like Atlanta, Premier Alternate Site Programs (which includes Innovatix and Essensa) has been growing rapidly. This growth is partly fueled by changes to the healthcare ecosystem, with many healthcare services shifting from acute care facilities to alternate sites. The other factor driving this growth is the success of the programs we're able to offer our members to create more efficient business operations and ultimately drive down costs.

This meeting features many examples of how our programs are changing to meet members' needs. One worth highlighting is the launch of stockd, Premier's new online marketplace for healthcare providers and businesses. Introduced to supplement our GPO, stockd provides a consumer-like purchasing experience with a user-friendly purchasing platform, the ability to easily compare products and pricing, and reputable suppliers. Get the full stockd experience at our pop-up store during Monday evening's Member and Supplier Appreciation Celebration, and be sure to visit our Member Lounge throughout the meeting to learn more.

In addition to stockd, I strongly urge you to visit the Member Lounge to experience other innovative offerings designed to help your business thrive, including new clinical tools, pharmacy operations programs, and technology resources, to name a few.

Beyond learning about Premier's programs, this year's meeting has an impactful agenda designed to address our members' needs. Get the most out of the meeting by:

- Attending our keynote sessions to be inspired by our dynamic line-up of speakers, including Shark Tank's Barbara Corcoran, Washington insider Blair Childs, and Navy SEAL Combat Veteran Aaron Tucker.
- Participating in our educational sessions led by nationally recognized experts on clinical topics; government affairs and regulatory issues; and business management and operations.
- Experiencing our engaging networking events, held on-site Monday night and at the Georgia Aquarium on Tuesday evening. There you can interact with your colleagues, make new connections, and discover how we can work together for our mutual success.

Please also make sure to bring some energy to our Exhibition Hall, featuring more than 100 leading suppliers in attendance to help address your business needs. We'll have sessions in the hall on both Monday and Tuesday to ensure members and suppliers have plenty of time to connect. This is a unique opportunity to interact with suppliers who want to be here with YOU. Please make the most of it.

Finally, sticking with our theme of change, I'm excited to announce that this will be our final Innovatix + Essensa National Meeting & Expo. But don't worry, we're not going away. We're getting bigger and better. I cordially invite you to attend our inaugural Premier Alternate Site Programs Meeting and Expo next October at the beautiful Arizona Biltmore in Phoenix.

This new meeting will reflect how our organization has changed for the better. By combining our traditional Innovatix and Essensa GPO meeting with Premier Alternate Site Sponsors and Affiliates, we'll be able to offer additional programming, attract more suppliers, and provide added networking opportunities. This increased meeting scope reflects the prominence of alternate site both within Premier and more broadly in the healthcare and business landscape. Please save the date for October 11 - 15, 2020, and join us as we work toward becoming the go-to industry meeting.

Thank you again to all our members, suppliers, sponsors, speakers, colleagues, and guests for joining us this week. Your work continues to inspire me, and I look forward to an amazing meeting.

John P. Sganga
Senior Vice President,
Alternate Site Programs,
Premier

SESSION 1A: What's New in the 2018 Cholesterol Guidelines?

📍 Location: 204 | 205

Dr. Joseph Saseen, PharmD
Professor & Vice Chair,
Clinical & Academic Programs,
University of Colorado, Anschutz Medical Campus

Overview: This educational session will highlight key recommendations from the new 2018 American Heart Association (AHA)/American College of Cardiology (ACC)/Multisociety cholesterol guideline.

The session will cover aspects of the guideline that remain in place from 2013, including the use of statin-based therapy in patients that are in one of four statin-benefit groups as the primary strategy. It will also introduce evidence-based recommendations that differ from past guidelines, including the inclusion of non-statin agents with cardiovascular outcomes data as add-on therapy after maximizing statin therapy in some patients.

Attendees will also learn about recommendations for specific primary prevention populations (e.g., older adults, chronic kidney disease), as well as risk enhancing factors that provide clinicians with additional tools to individualize risk assessment and to determine whether LDL-C lowering therapy is needed.

ACCREDITATION: (1.25 Contact Hours)
ACPE: Pharmacists (UAN: 0409-0000-19-017-L01-P)

SESSION 1B: The Evolving Landscape of Pharmacy: A Focus on Drug Pricing and Shortages Reform

📍 Location: 210 | 211

Soumi Saha, PharmD, JD
Senior Director of Advocacy,
Premier

Overview: Patients have increasingly felt the consequences of rising drug prices and persistent drug shortages and now, with 2020 elections looming, policymakers have also caught wind. The President, Congress, and regulatory agencies have all staked claims in the drug pricing discussion but, beyond the spotlight, what proposals are here to stay and how will they impact pharmacy? This session will detail legislative and regulatory proposals to address the rising cost of pharmaceuticals, expand on current efforts to mitigate drug and device shortages, and provide an in-depth look into how this will impact key actors in healthcare.

ACCREDITATION: (1.25 Contact Hours)
ACPE: Pharmacists (UAN: 0409-0000-19-012-L03-P)

SESSION 1C:
Customer Experience Prescribed:
Your Guide to Client Loyalty

Location: 212 | 213

Lisa van Kesteren
CEO,
SeeLevel HX

Overview: Is your customer experience driving clients away? In this competitive industry, simply meeting customer expectations and delivering an average experience isn't enough to gain client loyalty. Mediocrity just won't cut it anymore. If you're looking to realize stronger loyalty and increased market share, you have to exceed client expectations with a superior customer experience ... which also means you have to truly know what your clients want.

Get ready to dive deep in this session into the essentials of delivering an outstanding customer experience, from addressing evolving expectations to trends and innovations that will help you best engage your clients. With this knowledge, you'll walk away with the tools you need to gain a competitive edge and avoid industry complacency.

What is in the Pipeline? – The 2019 Update

Location: 204 | 205

Liya Davydov, PharmD, BCPS, BCGP
Vice President, Clinical Pharmacy Services,
Premier

Educational Sessions 2
4:15 - 5:30 p.m.

Overview: Interest in developing specialty drugs, improved chemotherapy, next-generation parenteral infectious diseases (ID) drugs, as well as biosimilars, continues to rise. To date, 20 biosimilars have already received FDA approval, 7 entered the US market, and multiple other biosimilar applications are currently pending review by the FDA. New parenteral ID drugs for complicated/ antimicrobial-resistant infections have been approved recently, with others awaiting decision from the FDA. The goal of this presentation is to provide an update on specialty drugs, oral/parenteral oncology drugs, and biosimilars that are either in the late stages of development or have already been submitted to the FDA and are currently under regulatory review, as well as provide an update on recent approvals and advances in the ID field.

The Opioid Overdose Epidemic – Opportunities for Pharmacists to Lead

📍 Location: 210 | 211

Christopher M. Jones, PharmD, DrPH, MPH
CAPT, US Public Health Service,
Director, Strategy and Innovation,
National Center for Injury Prevention and Control,
Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Overview: The opioid crisis that has unfolded in the U.S. over the past two decades has been remarkably lethal. The roots of the crisis are complex and inextricably entangled with the healthcare system, especially in its treatment of another serious health problem: pain.

Optimal public health efforts to reduce the number of deaths from opioid overdoses require approaching the problem from a range of angles, including prevention, treatment, and harm reduction. Given the structural impact of the healthcare system, addressing how pain and addiction are managed and treated is key. Pharmacists play a key role in all areas the opioid crisis response.

This session will provide an update on the latest epidemiological trends and CDC efforts to respond to the opioid overdose epidemic, with a focus on how pharmacists—including pharmacists involved in long-term care, infusion, and skilled nursing facilities—can engage in these efforts.

Build and Protect Your Online Business Reputation

📍 Location: 212 | 213

Susan Catalano
Managing Partner,
JQLaCorte

Robert Clark
Managing Principal,
LucidPointe

Overview: Your business already has a reputation online. Do you know what your customers are saying about you?

The prevalence of online review sites and the encouragement for users to rate a business and post a review has created a new challenge for businesses: monitoring their online reputation. Reputation needs to be managed — ignore it at your peril.

This interactive session will cover the fundamentals of online reputation management for your business, including the proactive steps you should take to build your reputation and the tactics you should use to manage and protect your business's reputation from the inevitable negative review.

The Continued Evolution of Telehealth: Key Policy Issues for Post-Acute Care Providers in 2020

 Location: 210 | 211

Emily H. Wein, JD
Of Counsel,
Foley & Lardner, LLP

Overview: Telehealth is quickly becoming an important driver to expand access within the changing healthcare paradigm, yet its potential is often not optimized. Ms. Wein will dive into the nuts and bolts of what telehealth is and the policy considerations in implementing telehealth service offerings.

Additionally, she will cover existing challenges, benefits, and the applicability of utilizing telehealth in the non-acute space, including for pharmacies and long-term care facilities, as well as touch on new Medicare policy regarding remote care management, such as remote patient monitoring and chronic care management.

By the end of the session, participants will understand how telehealth and certain other remote services can improve quality of care, reduce costs, and increase access and efficiencies of care.

Medication Safety Considerations: What's the Buzz with "Deprescribing?"

📍 Location: 204 | 205

Manju T Beier, Pharm D., BCGP, FASCP

*Senior Partner, Geriatric Consultant Resources &
Adjunct Associate Professor of Pharmacy,
The University of Michigan*

Overview: Much has been written and discussed about polypharmacy in older adults and the potential for harm, including the risk for adverse drug reactions and potentially avoidable hospitalizations. We need to constantly reevaluate what we prescribe and monitor for safety and effectiveness. Our actions or inactions in this regard can lead to unintended consequences precipitating functional decline and decreased quality of life in our patients and residents.

"Deprescribing" identifies medications that don't match up with the patient's goals of care, that are too costly, or that are no longer needed. This session focuses on how to revisit our medication safety considerations as a healthcare team. After all, it's not the number of medications that are the enemy, but careless and inappropriate prescribing.

Alan G. Rosenbloom, JD

*President and CEO,
Senior Care Pharmacy Coalition*

Chad Worz, PharmD, BCGP

*Executive Director and CEO,
American Society of Consultant Pharmacists*

Moderator: Shara Siegel, MS

Director of Government Affairs - Premier

Overview: During this interactive panel session with the American Society of Consultant Pharmacists (ASCP), the National Home Infusion Association (NHIA), and the Senior Care Pharmacy Coalition (SCPC), we will explore long-term care pharmacy and home infusion policy issues impacting members.

The session will cover a range of topics including, but not limited to: Medicare payment for home infusion services, a federal definition for long-term care pharmacy, drug pricing and PBM reforms, and the new Patient-Driven Payment Model. Participants will learn about these evolving government initiatives, how to prepare for upcoming changes, and the actions being taken by the national associations to advocate for their respective industries.

SESSION 4C:

Millennials Incorporated: Understanding the Multi-Generational Workforce

 Location: 212 | 213

Andrea Hershatter

*Sr. Associate Dean and BBA Program Director,
Goizueta Business School,
Emory University*

Overview: Members of every generation are alternately perplexed, amazed, and confused by the approaches and work place behaviors of the generations that precede and follow them. In this session, we will briefly consider generational theory, with special attention to the overarching propensities and characteristics of the Millennial generation. We will then examine the dynamics of our intergenerational workforce, with special consideration to the complexities of GenX/Millennial interactions.

We hope to engage in a lively discussion about what you are seeing and experiencing in your own work environment, and to consider what organizations are—or could be—doing to best support and enhance the effectiveness of their multi-generational populations.

Management of Adverse Events Resulting from Use of Immunotherapy Treatments in Cancer

 Location: 204 | 205

Dr. J. Andrew Orr-Skirvin, Pharm.D., BCOP

Associate Clinical Professor & Department Chair, Northeastern University

Educational Sessions 5
3:15 - 4:30 p.m.

Overview: The development and increasing use of immunotherapy agents in cancer therapy is creating a new set of adverse events for many patients. Monoclonal therapies are causing immunologic and autoimmune types of reactions not commonly seen with other agents. In addition, targeted therapies have another set of adverse reactions that differ from traditional chemotherapy agents. In this session we will explore how to manage adverse events resulting from these new agents.

SESSION 5B: Shifting Provider Reimbursement: The Latest on Medicare Part D and Post-Acute Care

 Location: 210 | 211

Dr. Brad Kile, PhD
President
Dumbarton Group, LLC

Overview: Provider reimbursements have undergone major shifts in recent years with the implementation of the Affordable Care Act (ACA) and commercial market changes. During this session we will explore the financial and operational challenges presented by the convergence of political and market forces driving provider reimbursements towards quality and outcomes-based measures. After an overview of recent Medicare and Medicaid developments in Congress, we will examine key regulatory action on Post-Acute Care (PAC) and Part D from the Trump Administration. The session includes an in-depth look at the Skilled Nursing Facility (SNF) Patient Driven Payment Model implementation for October 2019 and structural changes for Part D in 2019 and 2020. Participants will learn about navigating the changing market to adapt to new reimbursement incentives.

SESSION 5C: Addressing Workplace Hostility

 Location: 212 | 213

Doreen Guma, MA, FACHE, CPC, CLC
Founder,
Time to Play Foundation

Overview: Many organizations are a mixing pot of stress and hostility. Workplace stress, emotional exhaustion, cynicism, and a low sense of personal accomplishment at work affect staff and clinicians, including our leaders, physicians, and nurses. The National Academy of Medicine believes this results in 30 to 50 percent of clinicians experiencing decreased job satisfaction and quality of life, and increased depression and suicidal ideation.

Negative workplace experience impacts both healthcare and non-healthcare organizations, and costs $500 billion annually due to decreased engagement of our workers, as well as $300 billion annually in healthcare costs due to job stress.

This session will introduce emotional and behavioral skill sets, and attendees will learn how our behaviors impact workplace incivility, hostility, health, and behavioral self-control. Participants will learn to build individual strengths and how to decrease personality conflicts that lead to toxic workplaces and negative outcomes.

Antitrust Statement

The purpose of this conference is to educate participants and for Premier, Innovatix, and Essensa to get certain feedback from our members regarding our program.

All decisions made by you about how you will each conduct business must be made independently and without discussion with competitors.

It is important to be mindful of federal antitrust laws. U.S. antitrust laws are intended to foster and protect competition. These laws prohibit particular anticompetitive activities, and more generally those that are deemed to unreasonably restrain trade. Some violations of U.S. antitrust law are automatic and may result in serious criminal as well as civil penalties.

As such, you should not suggest any agreements or parallel conduct on competitive subjects and should not disclose any confidential information about your own business, business plans, pricing, customers or other proprietary or confidential information with or to any other Premier, Innovatix, and Essensa members.

FEATURED PRESENTERS

Barbara Corcoran

Founder of The Corcoran Group and Shark on ABC's "Shark Tank"

Barbara Corcoran's credits include straight D's in high school and college and 20 jobs by the time she turned 23. It was her next job that would make her one of the most successful entrepreneurs in the country: She borrowed $1,000 and quit her job as a waitress to start a tiny real estate company in New York City. Over the next 25 years, Corcoran would parlay that $1,000 loan into a $5 billion real estate business, building the largest and best-known brand in the business.

Corcoran is the author of the best seller "Shark Tales: How I Turned $1,000 into a Billion Dollar Business!" and host of top business podcast "Business Unusual with Barbara Corcoran."

Corcoran is a motivational and inspirational speaker. She is a frequent small business and real estate contributor on every major network. Corcoran has been an investor/Shark for the past nine seasons on ABC's four-time Emmy award winning show, Shark Tank, investing in over 80 businesses to date.

John P. Sganga

Senior Vice President, Alternate Site Programs, Premier

John Sganga is responsible for the overall leadership of Premier's non-acute, alternate site, Sponsor of Affiliate, and e-commerce programs.

Prior to Premier, Sganga launched and served as President and CEO of Innovatix and Essensa, which Premier acquired in Dec. 2016. Under his leadership, Innovatix and Essensa have grown into leading national non-acute care GPOs, with over 60,000 members and surpassing $8.2 billion in combined contract volume in 2016.

Sganga's nearly 30 years of healthcare experience includes serving as Executive Vice President of GNYHA Ventures (the business arm of the Greater New York Hospital Association), Senior Director of Financial Operations at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, and at Ernst & Young's Management Consulting Service. He provided leadership on the Executive Board of the Metropolitan Health Administrators' Association (MHAA) for 17 years and received the 2004 Award of Distinction for his commitment to healthcare. Sganga is a fellow of the American College of Healthcare Executives (ACHE) and currently serves on the White Plains Hospital Board of Directors.

In 1999, Sganga was recognized as one of Crain's New York Business "40 Under Forty," and was also awarded the New York University Alumni Torch Award for public service. In 2008, he was a finalist for the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year Award, New York Metro Area Healthcare Division.

Sganga holds a Master's in Public Administration from the Robert F. Wagner Graduate School of Public Service at New York University, with a concentration in financial management.

Blair Childs

Senior Vice President, Public Affairs, Premier

As Senior Vice President of Public Affairs for Premier, Blair Childs is the primary spokesperson and communications strategist for the organization on key issues impacting healthcare costs and quality. Childs is a respected and well-recognized expert on health policy and advocacy, and has appeared on all the major television networks, as well as been quoted in most national publications. He serves as liaison to the U.S. Congress, White House, healthcare policymakers, and other major bodies involved in healthcare policy and regulation.

Aaron Tucker

Navy SEAL Combat Veteran and Business Consultant

Aaron Tucker is a Navy SEAL Combat Veteran with deployments to seven countries. Upon leaving the SEAL Teams, Tucker turned his discipline and battlefield lessons to the world of business. He is an accomplished entrepreneur, consultant, and acclaimed speaker on topics ranging from leadership and building high-performance teams to culture and organizational transformation.

Tucker is an executive with his own progressive leadership and management consulting firm, focusing on business transformation and building high-performance cultures. With a degree in marketing and advanced degrees in business and management, Tucker's experience is both academic and real-world in nature, from working with world renowned behavioral and clinical psychologists to engaging with the US Navy to create a shift in operational effectiveness and training.

Tucker has a passion for life and challenges himself and others by following specific rules for success. He has summited Kilimanjaro, participated in expedition length adventure racing as a sponsored athlete, and is completing a Ph.D. in Management with work in leading developing teams.
